Antioch High Students Struck by Automobile In Approaching Bus

Seven Other Area Teenagers Hurt Sunday in Auto Accident

Two Antioch Township High School students were severely injured Monday morning when they were struck by a car as they crossed Rte. 173 at Channel Lake to enter a school bus.

They are Sue Barnstable, 17, who suffered a fractured ankle and her sister, Sandra Barnstable, 16, who was badly cut and bruised. Both are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Barnstable of Lake Catherine.

Driver of the car that struck them was Helen C. Waldy, 56, of Lindenhurst.

State police said that the Barnstable girls and several others were standing on the north side of the highway across from the Stieber barber shop waiting for the school bus and when the driver, Robert Michaelson of Lake Villa pulled off the highway into the barbershop parking area, all of the girls started across the road.

Sue Ann and Sandra failed to get across in time to prevent being struck by the Waldy car, which police believe was not going fast. Because the bus was not on the highway it did not have its traffic stop signal working, it was said, and the girls did not know that they did not have bus protection.

The Barnstable girls were taken to Victory Memorial hospital by the Antioch Rescue squad. Sue Ann's ankle was swollen so badly that it could not be put into a cast for the first two days. Hope was expressed that they might be brought home Saturday.

Seven other young persons from the Antioch area were hurt when the car in which they were riding on Old Trevor rd. went out of control a half mile north of North ave. and went into a ditch and hit a tree about 12:35 a.m. Sunday.

Herbert Horton Jr., 20, of Dwight ct., Antioch, was the driver of the car according to sheriff's police and he lost control of the car as he drove south on a curve in the Old Trevor road. He suffered facial lacerations and a possible knee fracture and internal injuries.

Horton underwent surgery Tuesday for repair of the liver. His condition is critical.

Six passengers with him were Wayne Moran, 17, R.F.D. 4, Antioch, who suffered from shock; Katherine Jozkowski, 16, of Channel Lake, facial lacerations; Diane Tunkis, 17, of Niles, fractured left arm and face lacerations; Judith Burmeister, Chicago, Jackie Burger, 16, Antioch; and Jack Hucker, 17, R.F.D. 3, Antioch, shock.

Harold Jorgensen, 54, Channel L. Resident, Dies of Heart Attack

Harold Jorgensen, 54, of Linden Lane, Channel Lake, died unexpectedly at his home, presumably from a heart attack Tuesday afternoon.

The Antioch Rescue squad was called about 5:40 p.m., but found Jorgensen had been dead for about two hours.

Mrs. Jorgensen, who was away at work and was expecting her husband to call for her, called a neighbor to investigate when he did not arrive nor answer the telephone. She found him dead in the garage, and it is presumed he had a heart attack while preparing to make the trip.

Mr. Jorgensen retired from the bakery business in Chicago about three years ago and moved to Channel Lake.

The body was taken to the C. Kamp and Son Funeral Home at 318 North Central ave. in Chicago for services.

F. H. A. Tags Designed By Nancy Wetterberg Best in District 21

Antioch's name tags designed by Nancy Wetterberg were judged the best in F.H.A. District 21 last Saturday when 15 delegates from Antioch Township High School wore them to the Fall Rally at Dundee High School.

The rally's theme was "All Shoulders to the Wheel" and Nancy carried out the theme with a red wheel cut with pinking sheers serving as a background for the information the girls put on a white paper blouse marked with seamstress markings. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Wetterberg of Lake Villa.

Pat Jesse is president of the Antioch Chapter of Future Homemakers of America and her mother, Mrs. Harry Jesse, serves as chapter mother. Mrs. Jesse chaperoned Saturday's trip as did Mrs. Kenneth Young and Instructors, Mrs. Kathleen Barkman and Mrs. Dorothy Romoser. The delegation traveled by car.

Flu cut the number of Antioch's representatives by 10 and a second rally was considered as all schools found that many, including top officers could not attend.

Hobo Day was also held by the F.H.A. over the weekend with members working at odd jobs for pay. Despite a crowded schedule, $32 has

Lindenhurst Inducts Nine-man Volunteer Patrolman System

The newly incorporated village of Lindenhurst east of Lake Villa, took another step toward self government this week with the appointment of nine policemen, John Slove, village trustee, and chairman of the Police and Fire Commission announced.

Trustee Slove already has started the ball rolling for a new car for the village. Donations from home builders who want protection against theft of lumber and other building supplies have been received, and Slove expects to raise the rest of the money through donations and receipts from Lindenhurst's first Policeman's Ball to be held Jan. 25, 1958.

The new volunteer police force will work on shifts, doing all night patrol and weekend service.

Abandonment of Town Collector to Result In Nearly $8,000 Loss to Town in 1958

Antioch Township this year received $7,817.32 from tax collections which hereafter it will not receive, John L. Horan, collector, told the town board recently as he closed his books with them at the death of the township collector's job.

The total $11,656.46 which will be a part of the processing of taxes by the county next year will see the county as a whole benefitting and not the townships directly.

Horan paid $62,327.36 to County Treasurer Lunn this year out of the $582,823.56 collections, which went for county expense. The rest of the collection, less the 2 per cent cost, was paid to the township Village of Antioch, road and bridge and gravel tax funds, library, fire district, and most of all the school funds. The total for the school districts was $197,823.16.

Besides the share of the collection fee Antioch Township got $39,278.13. The road and bridge fund received $15,152.76, and the gravel tax fund, $20.32.

The township library got a total of $7,046.21, and the fire district $3,464.40.

The Village of Antioch was paid $10,775.82 as its share of the levy and $2,117.57 for its road and bridge fund.

To Zaida Vos, cashier, $670; Carolyn Horan, bookkeeping, $182.50; Dorothy Horan, filing, $45; Antioch News, advertising notices, $44.10; Paul Volbrink, janitor service, $18; Office expense, $24.51; Loren D. Sexauer for hold-up insurance poli-

Lake Forest Here in Final Home Contest; Antioch Loses to Ela

Illness Hits Football Squad Hard — Sophomores Moved Up

Badly crippled by flu, the Antioch Sequoits will take the field nevertheless against Lake Forest here at 8:30 p.m. Saturday. It will be the last home game, the season ending next week with Antioch at Grayslake.

Unable to practice because of rain, and with 10 men off the squad through illness, the picture was dark yesterday for the Sequoits. Coach Robert Walther is having to move sophomores up to fill the breaches, and they will remain there the rest of the season.

Five regulars were down with flu when Antioch played Ela-Vernon there last Saturday, and lost in a heartbreaker 13 to 7.

Antioch scored first on a fake of a field goal, Lyslund carrying the ball over. The extra point was made by Lyslund around his left end.

With but three minutes left in the game and the Sequoits leading 7 to 0, it looked as though Antioch was headed for a victory. Then things happened.

Lyslund fumbled a fair catch on a punt and the Ela-Vernon Bears grabbed the ball for a touchdown. The extra point went wide and it still looked like an Antioch victory.

Gudgeon received the ball but on a 15-yard clipping penalty the ball was set back on the Antioch 2-yard line. Three plays later Lyslund fumbled again and the Bears recovered. On their third play they went through Sebasta and Fabry for a touchdown.

Antioch had a total of seven fumbles, recovering one, while Ela had three fumbles and recovered none. Ela had 11 first downs to Antioch's five. Antioch didn't get a first down in the second half.

The evidence was there that the boys were becoming ill with flu and were not strong enough to carry through.

Gudgeon was the strongest ground gainer for Antioch, carrying the ball seven times for a total yardage of 56, and an average of 6.4 yards. Lyslund carried the ball 12 times for a gain of 44 yards, an average of 3.6 yards. He had three fumbles, Roach 2, and Pyles 2.

One Third of Pupils At High School and St. Peter's Absent

The Asian flu or what ever the kindred disease is, hit Antioch Township High School hard this week.

Approximately 30 per cent of the students were absent from their classes Tuesday.

In the Antioch Public grade school the absenteeism was only about 16 per cent, but at St. Peter's Grade School where 307 are enrolled, about one-third of the pupils are out of classes because of flu.

The disease was slow in reaching Antioch, although at Zion and Salem it reached epidemic proportions, and many school activities were called off, even the Homecoming game at Salem.

"Absences were noticed last week, but it was this week that the flu really hit us," said Supt. Albert Dittman. "We had 180 of our 650 pupils out of classes Tuesday and yesterday."

At St. Peter's school the Sister in charge said that the increase in the number of flu cases has been gradual.

A survey shows that while some of the pupils get pretty sick, the sickness lasts only a few days. Only the young and the very old are seriously affected. Many are receiving the shots from their physicians in effort to avoid the disease. In some parts of the county the flu is making its second strike among the persons who had it before, and on the second round the sickness is more severe.

A.T.H.S. Commended By I.S.D.P.I. Visitors; Recommendation Made

The Antioch High School was recently visited by representatives from the Illinois State Department of Public Instruction, Principal Albert Dittman announced. The total school program was given commendation by the visiting group.

The school received favorable evaluation reports in the areas of homemaking, industrial arts, physical education, library, audio-visual aids and the general school program.

Particular recognition was given to the following:

Instruction and student-teacher morale was found to be very favorable. The school is well organized and that, in general, pride is taken by the boys and girls in their school, thus exhibiting a sensible school spirit. Pupil-teacher relations in the classrooms borders in excellent. Working relationships with staff and Board of Education appear sound. Apparently community relationships are wholesome, and a citizens' committee is now at work under the direction of Northwestern University.

The Board was commended for its far-sightedness in purchasing an additional ten acres of land adjacent to the present campus, which will enable it to further enrich the physical education program and make the area available to the community.

Recommends Broader Curriculum
The state visitors recommend that the curriculum offerings be broadened to include Art, Journalism, General Music and additional foreign language. They also comment that the present building is occupied to capacity, which means that a forward-looking planning program to secure additional facilities be inaugurated. Some indicated needs include a new science department, ad-

The Other Guy

The law-abiding citizen feels that traffic laws are good—good for the other fellow. He can see the sense in speed limits—if they are enforced against the other fellow. He can see that the other guy ought not sneak on a red light and should come to a full stop on a stop light, but when he does it is done with the utmost wisdom and endangers no one. Law enforcement officers receive little or no co-operation from the public in traffic law enforcement campaigns. People resent traffic tickets. Sure, they usually are guilty of the offense, but why should they be arrested? They always drive as carefully as they can. What they were doing was technically wrong but right because they were doing it.

'Serious, Not Grave'

By Maj. Gen. James F. Phillips, (USAF, Ret.)
Coordinator, Guided Missile Committee, Aircraft Industries Association

Back during the days of World War II when enemy forces were making strong penetrations, Allied communications more often than not carried a phrase to the effect that "the situation is serious but not grave." A similar sentence might well be used to describe the Free World's ballistic missile situation.

Soviet leaders have announced they have launched a ballistic missile capable of hitting any target on earth. Based on Russian success in evolving atomic and hydrogen weapons and jet fighters and bombers, there is no valid reason for presuming that the Soviet announcement on attainment of an intercontinental ballistic missile is not factual.

It is, of course, possible that the Kremlin does not actually have an accurate ICBM and that the claim was made for purposes of ballistically blackmailing the U. S. and its Allies. But it is far more probable that the Soviet Union has truly developed at least an experimental ICBM.

Considering known previous Soviet success with nuclear weapons, this means, in all probability, that within the next few years American cities could be attacked. After launching, it would take only a half-hour for such a Soviet ICBM with a thermonuclear warhead to reach this country. This is most certainly a serious and sobering situation. Anyone who thinks otherwise is deceiving himself.

It is likely, however, that the newly announced Russian ICBM is actually only a prototype. Because of the lead time required to acquire such a weapon for the military inventory, it can be concluded that it will be many months before the Soviet missile force has enough ICBMs to attack major American cities.

Furthermore, the same deterrent force which has kept Kremlin leaders from attacking us in the past is still intact and growing stronger every day. America's aircraft industry has delivered hundreds upon hundreds of medium and long-range jet bombers to the USAF's Strategic Air Command. Each of these planes, using either the technique of in-flight refueling or overseas air bases in friendly countries, can strike deeply and effectively at the heartland of Russia with both conventional and nuclear weapons. And our Navy leaders have frequently pointed out that A- and H-bomb-carrying attack bombers built by U. S. aircraft companies can also reach targets behind the Iron Curtain from carrier at sea. And these aircraft can head for their targets from any direction on earth.

These manned aircraft are supplemented by missiles already in production in this country, many of them capable of knocking out Soviet targets with their atomic warheads. The Russians are fully aware of the lethal potentialities of the manned and unmanned aerial weapons being delivered to the Army, Navy and Air Force by this country's aircraft industry.

Even in the ballistic missile field, the U. S. is making swift progress. Airframe, engine, components and electronic companies are engaged in top-priority programs to provide the U. S. armed forces with various types of short, intermediate and intercontinental range ballistic missiles. Testing of the prototypes of these ballistic missiles is constantly under way at military missile test bases and these tests are certain to result in accurate weapons for the military inventory of the Free World far sooner than the Russians would like.

All in all, the U. S. and its Allies have received some disquieting news from Moscow Radio. It must be realized that cities like New York, Washington, Pittsburgh, Chicago and Los Angeles are already, or very soon will be, under threat of atomic attack from Soviet ICBMs. But the planes and missiles developed and produced by this country's aircraft manufacturers are continuing to provide life insurance for the residents of these cities by letting the Russians know that they can expect instant retaliation.

Make Halloween

Safe This Year

Roasting marshmallows over a bonfire, bobbing for apples in a tub of water, trick-or-treatin' at the neighbor's house and hoping you won't be asked for the "pay" — a dance, song or poem — for the treat.

All this is Halloween, a once-a-year occasion when Johnny and Mary can fill their paper sacks with a collection of goodies even the heartiest of appetites can barely dent.

Halloween . . . a night when bedtime is moved back an hour (or two, if you protest enough), a night when small spooks slither through the streets of Antioch.

The originators of the observance of All Saints Day probably never realized how the eve would be marked in the 20th Century.

And for sure, they never realized the dangers of Halloween hijinks.

The holiday can be full of fun for youngsters if a few simple precautions are followed.

No one wants a repetition of the tragedy in Seattle, Wash., when a youngster's Halloween mask slipped, blinding his view of an onrushing auto.

How can parents make this Oct. 31 safe from Halloween hazards?

By buying their children light-colored costumes, for one, the Council says. They're easier to see at night.

For another, by making sure the outfits aren't tripping hazards and that they are flameproof.

Other tips:

1. Masks are dangerous because they restrict vision. They're also hot and scratchy, so kids will welcome a painted false face. A little rouge, eyebrow pencil and moustache stick can make children miniature ghosts, goblins, pirates or clowns — but with the added safety factor of allowing them to see danger in time to avoid it.

2. Use a flashlight instead of a candle in jack-o'-lanterns.

3. Remind children that on Halloween, as during the rest of the year, safety precautions should be observed. No dashing from between parked cars, no playing in streets, no crossing streets without first looking both ways.

4. To make doubly sure motorists can see costumed children, put reflectorized tape or bands on their outfits. A Cleveland, Ohio, radio station came up with a novel idea that drew praise from parents everywhere — a reflectorized paper pumpkin for pasting on trick-or-treat bags. The pumpkin gave off a yellow glow in auto headlights.

Further, grownups can help make Oct. 31 accident-free, the Council says, if they will:

1. Light porches so trick-or-treaters won't trip in the dark.

2. Watch out for disguised dangers in the streets — logs, barrels or piles of leaves, for example — that may conceal pranksters.

3. Tie white strips of cloth on wires or ropes surrounding newly planted trees.

4. Take indoors any objects that may tempt vandals and be turned into safety hazards. In this category are barrels, trash cans, lawn mowers and bicycles.

5. If, despite your precautions, your car windows get soaped, take time out before driving to clean them.

Most of the autumn antics are good for laughs. But many can lead to accidents. "Have fun, but don't let your guard down," it advises.

Cold Weather Increases Danger of Carbon Monoxide

Motorists face a deadly enemy in carbon monoxide. The colorless, odorless, tasteless gas may become a sneaking killer in cold weather, the Chicago Motor Club warns.

Even small doses of the lethal gas may cause an accident by slowing down the driver's reaction, the motor club explains. One part of carbon monoxide in 700 parts of air can be fatal, and one part in 1,700 parts of air can cause nausea.

Nausea, drowsiness, headache, delayed braking reaction, faulty coordination, and poor vision are warning symptoms of carbon monoxide. When these reactions are noted, car occupants should immediately inhale deep breaths of fresh air.

Carbon monoxide is produced by imperfectly burned motor fuel. An excess may be produced by faulty engine adjustment, but even the best adjusted engine may leak enough carbon monoxide to be fatal. Chief danger points are faulty gas-kets, defective exhaust systems, and clogged exhaust pipes.

To avoid being overcome by carbon monoxide, we recommend the following precautions:

—Never run a motor in a closed garage or other unventilated enclosure.

—Always keep a car window open to assure air circulation.

—Shut off the motor if you are sitting in a parked car for more than a few minutes.

—Check your engine for proper combustion.

—Check all points of the exhaust system for leaks and stoppages.

—Remember, the exhaust pipe may become clogged by backing into a snow bank.

200 Mile Boat Trip Made in 8½ Hours

Bob Switzer, 25, vice president of the Crystal Lake boat building firm shared the driving job with Dick Thede, 24, of Downers Grove, in a 200 water-mile sprint from Benton Harbor, Mich., to Milwaukee. Running time for the trip was eight and one-half hours. Brief stops were made at Chicago and Waukegan.

The trip began at dawn, about 6:15, and the boatmen reached Chicago in three hours. Upon the suggestion of the Coast Guard they had kept their route not more than five miles from shore.

A favoring breeze from the East gave them an assist, and as the wind picked up, it swung to come out of the South. At the close of their trip at the South Shore Yacht Club, Milwaukee, the boatmen were running before moderate seas. Although well soaked with spray, they reported that no afterwash came into the cockpit because the boat was equipped with a self-bailing transom.

Selected for the trip was a Switzer Craft Lightning Combo, named for its versatility in both cruising and runabout activity. It was powered by Johnson twin 18 horsepower engines. The craft reached speeds up to 34 miles per hour but a constant speed of 25 m.p.h., was attempted for the trip.

Switzer and Thede had discussed the practicality of outboard boating on Lake Michigan since they were youngsters. "We've learned that off shore boating with outboards is done in the Pacific and Atlantic ocean area, why not Lake Michigan," they said. "Mind you, boatmen who fish and cruise in major waters are professionals or experienced people who leave nothing to chance. They consult the weather people, they know navigation, and they use proper equipment — in boats, motors and in safety devices," he added.

Besides boat and motors, the Switzer-Thede Combo had a barometer, a speedometer, an eight-day clock, two compasses, six 6-gallon gasoline tanks, two 4-gallon tanks, a specially cut cover for the after portion of the cockpit, two spare propellers, ski mast to carry the gas lines, fire extinguishers, complete running lights, and life jackets.

"Anyone with any boating experience knows that Lake Michigan is to be treated with respect," Switzer said. "We know that our equipment was more than adequate for such a trip, but this late in the year a strong breeze was expected. We were ready, however, and it was an exciting trip," he added.

Garden Section Gives New Play At Woman's Cl.

"The Green Thumber's Dilemma," presented as the Woman's Club program on Monday by the Garden Section of the Club proved to be a comedy which centered around whether or not the Green Thumbers had eaten cup cakes at their meeting in which insecticide was thought to have been mistakenly added.

Mrs. O. I. Onstad, director-author of the sketch, portrayed the hostess for the staged meeting with Mrs. John Wagner serving as her assisting hostess. Mrs. Norvin Stoffel was the maid who made and served the questionable cakes. After testing the cup cakes on the dog, the ladies learned that he died, so they submit to stomach pumping with the assistance of Mrs. Earl Hays as nurse.

The climax came when the ladies learned from the maid that the dog was in good condition until hit by a truck.

Into the plot a Green Thumber's meeting was woven in which Mrs. Clarence Spiering played her true role as president and Mrs. Frank Vanc, program chairman, served that capacity and showed slides of her garden as well as those of Mrs. Onstad, Mrs. Wagner, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Fred Oschmann.

Other ladies appearing on the stage of Wesley Hall in their role of Garden Section members were Mrs. Dudley Kennedy, Mrs. Clarence Gibbons, Mrs. Louis Biel, Mrs. Frank Pechousek and Mrs. Clarence Klentz.

At the social hour, all members were served cup cakes of unquestioned goodness by Mrs. Loren Sexauer and her committee.

During the meeting of the Woman's Club, a certificate was presented to Mrs. Donald Francisco in which Downey Hospital recognized the club in entertaining patients there. Mrs. Francisco, as the club's rehabilitation chairman headed the Downey program last year for the club. She and Mrs. Edmond Vgs, Mrs. Dudley Kennedy and Mrs. A. H. Kaufmann put on a program the following night in the gymnasium there for a group of mixed patients. Mrs. Grace Timmerman played solo-vox music at the party.

Mrs. Clarence Olson, club president, and Mrs. Louis Biel went to Wauconda on Tuesday and attended the Lake County Federation of Woman's Clubs meeting. During the afternoon they heard the numerous characterizations of Dorothy Christman who will appear for Antioch's Club November 18.

Leland Chartier Shows Pictures on Safety at Trevor School P.T.A.

Leland Chartier of the Kenosha County Sheriff's Department addressed forty members of the Trevor School P.T.A. at its October meeting. His topic was "Highway Safety". He showed "Chain of Events", narrated by Bob Hope; and "The Miracle of Lost Valley" to give a deeper understanding to the necessity of practicing safety.

The P.T.A. is having its money making project for the year in the form of a Fall Festival on November 9, from 12 Noon until 7 p.m. Home baking, hand made Christmas gifts, Christmas cards, and a white elephant sale will be featured. There will be games and prizes for all. Everyone is invited.

Ballroom dancing lessons, for all the children in the upper grades that desire to take, are being sponsored by the organization by popular demand. It is felt that since the boys and girls are thrown into such an active social life in high school without proper preparation perhaps something of this nature would be of help to them.

Mrs. Clarence Shaw, President, announced a budget of $25.00. This would include $75.00 gift for the school, $75.00 toward graduation expenses, and $75.00 to send delegates to workshops and annual conventions.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Gutowski and son Michael of 1005 Bishop St. have been vacationing in Florida for the past two weeks.

The Congregational Women's Fellowship of Genoa City, Wisconsin will serve its annual turkey dinner, family style, at the Congregational Church, Thursday evening, October 24. Serving will start at 4:30 c.s.t. Mrs. Lyle Mattox, general chairman.

Use of New Test Would Curb Glaucoma

NEW YORK—Results of a California medical survey indicate that a test for tension in the eye, if included in every routine physical examination, could substantially reduce the high toll of blindness from glaucoma.

A detection program conducted by University of California ophthalmologists demonstrates that the test procedure, called tonometry, provides physicians with an "exceptional opportunity" to discover glaucoma in its early stages, when vision usually can be preserved.

The research project was carried out under a grant of funds from the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, New York, and is reported in the Fall issue of its official journal, Sight-Saving Review.

According to the article, the "ultimate aim" of the research findings is to "persuade medical leaders in medical schools, the military and industry, that tonometry should be included as part of every general physical examination in the over-40 age group."

Antioch High G.A.A. Held Initiation and Planned Skating Party

The Girls' Athletic Association of Antioch Township High School held its informal initiation for new members on Wednesday, October 16.

Plans are being made for a skating party October 24 at Twin Lakes Roller Rink, a district Play Day at Antioch on November 2, and a bake sale on November 23 at the Ford Garage.

Officers for the year are: President, Judy Pyles; vice-president, Peggy Cardiff; treasurer, Sharon Dittman; and secretary, Pat Dressel.

The Strange Case of The Cosmic Rays

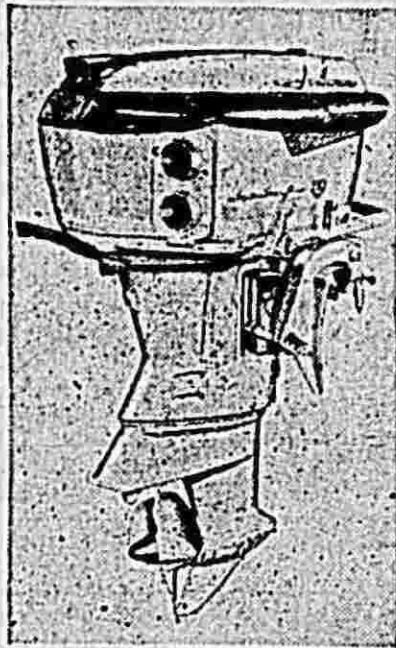

"Sputnik" and its faint beeping from outer space may lead the way in solving one of the most baffling mysteries in the world of science—the nature and source of cosmic rays.

Information transmitted by space satellites will help scientists track down the strange radiation that has defied scientific curiosity for 50 years, according to a film study of cosmic ray research which will be presented on a nationwide TV network tomorrow night.

"The Strange Case of the Cosmic Rays," latest in the Bell Telephone System science Series TV programs, will be shown Friday, October 25, over WNBQ, Channel 5 at 8 p.m. C.D.T.

Conceived as a scientific detective story, the program combines live action with cartoon animation to tell the story of a half-century hunt for the mysterious rays.

Following the telecast, 16 mm. color films of the program will be made available by Illinois Bell Telephone Company to schools and other interested groups.

FIRST V OUTBOARD engine in marine history has been unveiled by the nation's biggest outboard manufacturer, Johnson Motors. A four cylinder motor, it develops 50 horsepower. The engine is designed especially for family boating, its manufacturer says.

The visitors commented, too, that the assessed valuation of the high school district is such that sufficient money should be available to provide an educational program broad enough to meet the interests of all, although a recent tax increase referendum was turned down by the voters. The group felt that when the community fully recognized the need for additional funds, the vote will be in the direction of supplying those funds. The present tax rates appear quite low in comparison with those in other districts.

Illinois TAX FACTS

Whether the nation's taxpayers really bit into the seat of government spending or merely came out of the 1957 Federal budget battle with a piece of cloth in their mouths still remains to be seen. But whatever they got, they're going to continue working for more economy. This became evident this week with the announcement by the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois that it intends to keep teeth in the economy drive now and right on through the next session of Congress.

On the face of it, the taxpayers have a $6.1 billion cut in the $73.3 billion appropriation budget to show for their efforts. But less than half this total cut will affect this year's (fiscal 1958) spending.

This "saving" could be a piece of cloth unless restraints are put on current spending by all government departments during this time of rising costs. Or, it could mean that a smaller budget will be presented next January for fiscal 1959 with a resultant cut in taxes.

The National Conference of State Taxpayer Executives offers a program which, with public support, could guarantee substantial tax reduction next year. It points the way to a smaller budget by calling a halt to new Federal aid programs to the states, elimination of existing aid programs wherever possible, and elimination of waste and extravagance in the sprawling Federal get-up. The Hoover Commission, Commission on Intergovernmental Relations, Congressional committees and authoritative citizen groups have shown exactly where billions could be saved.

Taxpayer groups are suggesting that now would be a good time to let Budget Director Percival Brundage and President Eisenhower know that the public expects a smaller budget next year, because this is the time that budget requests are being screened.

Let them know, says the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois, that in order to reduce taxes we are willing to do without non-essential government services. Tell them: "I'll take less from government, if government takes less from me."

When thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut the door, pray to thy Father which is in secret.—(St. Matthew 6, 6.)

Even in the busiest moments of our daily tasks, we can close our eyes and, in the closet of our soul, speak silently to Our Father in a prayer of thanksgiving or in a plea for help and strength—for He is ever present, ever listening, ever merciful and just.

TV Viewers Should Know Code for Television Safety

CHICAGO—TV sets now are a part of over 40 million U. S. homes.

This rapid growth in numbers—mostly during the past decade—underscores the need for increased attention to television safety, the National Board of Fire Underwriters says.

Taking the following precautions will mean greater safety for TV families:

1. Call a competent repairman if your set needs fixing. TV sets contain high voltage and are too complex for amateur "tinkering." Unskilled handling can result in severe shock.

2. See that the ventilating holes in your set are clear and open. This air space is necessary because TV sets generate considerable heat which accumulates dangerously when ventilation is cut off. It may be dangerous, for instance, to install your set in a tight cubicle unless it was especially manufactured for such installations.

3. If you have an outside aerial, it may increase the danger of lightning striking your home. Therefore, you should have a UL-listed lightning arrester. The arrester is inexpensive and usually is included in the installation of your set by a competent TV serviceman. Make certain it is part of your set.

4. When buying a television set, check to make sure that it has been listed by Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc., a non-profit organization which tests products for safety.

Diapers Are Not Cause of Rash

CHICAGO—In spite of its name, diaper rash is not usually caused by diapers. Diaper rash is a general term for several types of skin eruptions in the "diaper region."

The commonest cause of a rash is the formation of ammonia by bacteria after urea is broken down. Other eruptions may be prickly heat, thrush, chafing, allergy, and various types of dermatitis.

All of these rashes are aggravated by lack of cleanliness and softening of the skin, which may occur if it remains moist too long. The best preventive for diaper rash is changing the diaper as soon as possible after it becomes wet or soiled. This prevents softening of the skin and the formation of ammonia.

Since plastic or rubber pants increase the likelihood of ammonia formation, their use should be limited to those brief social occasions when prompt changing would be inconvenient.

Studies have shown that commercial laundering of diapers is much more effective than home laundering in removing and stopping the growth of ammonia-forming bacteria.

World Is Much Changed Since Last Big War

WASHINGTON—The world has gained 25 independent nations and more than 500 million people since the start of World War II, the National Geographic Society reports.

This gives the world a total of 103 "states," and a population rapidly approaching the three billion mark. Asia had the lion's share of the increase in population. All but six of the new states are in Asia.

One state—the Saar—lived and died within a span of 10 years, from 1948 to 1957, when it joined West Germany.

The two newest states are Ghana, formerly known as the Gold Coast, and the Federation of Malaya, which joined the family of independent nations on August 31.

The 25 new states have about half of the world's population. Perhaps their most urgent single problem is how to raise living standards among ever-increasing masses that must be fed and clothed.

Diabetic Life Span Greatly Increased

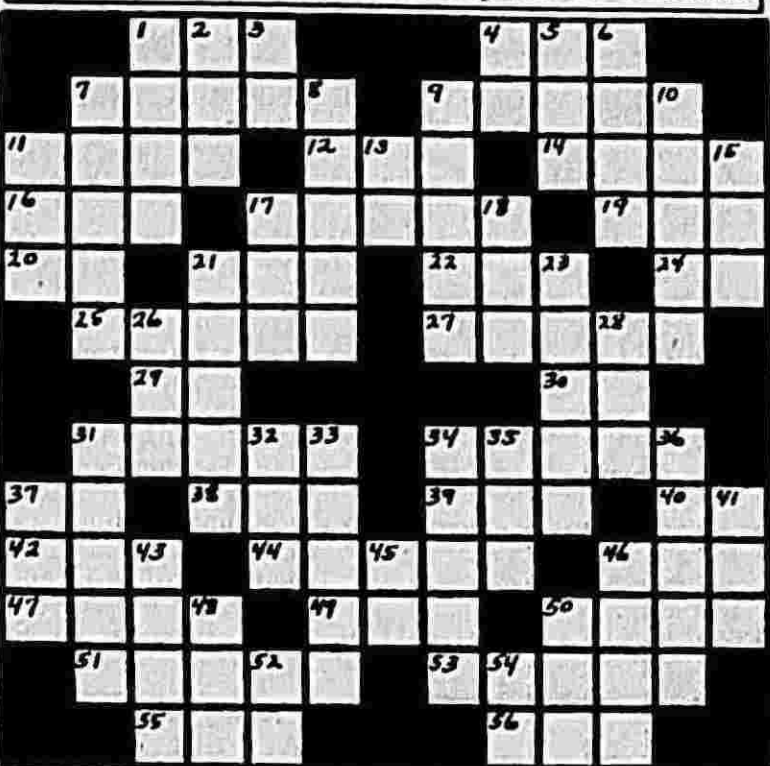

NEW YORK—Since the introduction of insulin treatment 35 years ago, the expectation of life of persons with diabetes has increased greatly.

Only in fairly recent years, for the first time in medical history, have diabetics whose disease began in early childhood attained age 45. Prior to the introduction of insulin therapy, the disease was quickly fatal to children.

How We See

The retina of each eye has about 130,000 cells or dots. To print this number of dots would require a piece of paper 10 feet long and 9 feet wide. However this number of cells is packed together in a small space at the back of the eye. The retina is the "screen" on which is reflected the images we perceive.

Physical Handicaps Fail to Impede Great Athletes

CHICAGO—Two Olympic gold medal winners have proved it is possible to completely overcome severe physical handicaps.

Harold V. Connolly, 25, won a 1956 Olympic gold medal in "one of the tenses hammer throwing competitions ever staged," even though he was born with a partially paralyzed left arm. This disability served as a strong incentive for his outstanding athletic performances, according to Dr. Ernst Jokl, Lexington, Ky.

Karoly Takacs, 46-year-old Hungarian, became a good—or even better—a pistol shooter with his left hand as he had once been with his right. An international champion pistol shooter with his right hand, Takacs lost that hand after an accident in 1938.

Within eight months, he was shooting with his left hand, and in 1939 he won the world championship at Lucerne, Switzerland. He won gold medals in the 1948 London Olympic games and the 1952 Helsinki games, and competed in the 1956 games at Melbourne.

Dr. Jokl, who examined both men at Melbourne, said the excellence of Takacs' athletic performance is so great as to place both his preamputation and postamputation attainments in "a class of their own."

Dr. Jokl, who is associated with the Kentucky Rehabilitation Center, Inc., University of Kentucky, said Takacs' case proves it is possible for the nervous and muscular systems to "relearn" a lost skill. In fact, it is possible for an entirely different part of the body to learn a skill formerly confined to another part.

Aswan Dam Is Key To Egypt's Future

WASHINGTON — At Aswan, which furnished granite for the Pyramids, Egypt hopes to create a new wonder of the world.

Near the historic quarries on the Nile, an immense dam is planned to convert desertland to farms and generate vast amounts of power.

Like the Pyramids, the dam will be one of the extraordinary engineering ventures of its time. The structure will dwarf the old Aswan Dam, itself a monster five times longer than Boulder Dam.

The project also promises to bring new vigor to Aswan, one of Egypt's busiest cities in the days of the Pharaohs. It was a commercial hub, gateway to the South, and the center of a vast gold mining industry, as well as the source of red and gray granite for temples, tombs, obelisks, and pyramid facings.

In recent centuries, Aswan has passed the years more quietly. Basking in the hot sun 400 miles south of Cairo, it has been a popular tourist center and winter resort. In July, the body of the late Aga Khan was entombed at his villa there.

Seventeen Presidents Have Visited Newport

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—If all the distinguished Americans who visited Newport while they were serving as President of the United States, could assemble today for a group picture, seventeen of the thirty-three would be in the mythical historic photo. The number has been in doubt ever since President Eisenhower's Newport vacation when the country's newsmen and feature writers assigned to cover his visit searched for a complete history of presidential visits to the historic city.

The top figure of seventeen was authenticated after a search through old newspapers in the files of the Newport Daily News office and the files of the Newport and Rhode Island historical societies.

The list of presidents who visited Newport begin with George Washington, who was followed by Monroe, Adams, Jackson, Tyler, Polk, Fillmore, Grant, Hayes, Arthur, Cleveland, Harrison, Teddy Roosevelt, Taft, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Truman and Eisenhower.

Women Voters Continue Numerical Advantage

NEW YORK — Women voters may outnumber the males and are likely to increase their numerical advantage in future elections.

Election records do not classify voters according to sex, but statisticians believe that more women than men are now voting on the basis of a Bureau of the Census estimate that there were about 4,600,000 more women than men in the civilian population of voting age last November.

Eye Care for Young

Though your child doesn't complain of vision trouble, don't take his "good eyesight" for granted. Children don't know how well they ought to be able to see, and should have regular eye examinations.

"When TV across the ocean is perfected, we'll be able to see just where our money is going." —Howard Duff.

"The difference between intelligence and education is that intelligence will make you a good living." —Charles F. Kettering.

Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ.—(Romans 5, 1.)

How can a man ever be at peace with himself until he first has peace with God, and loves Him and trusts in Him? The Way is through faith—through Our Lord Jesus Christ, Blessed Savior who died for us. Faith is the answer; it is forever the answer.

How safe would you be, asks the Illinois Division of Traffic Safety, if all drivers drive as you do? Would you be willing to trust yourself on the highway with all drivers like yourself? If not, isn't it about time to change so you'll like living with you?

MOOSE TOPICS

By Ben Noble

On May 19, 1949-50 men of Antioch became Charter members in the Loyal Order of Moose, Antioch Lodge No. 525 as granted by the supreme lodge at Mooseheart. The first governor of this lodge was Lester Heybacher. The first meeting place or home of this lodge was in a small building off main street.

After seven years of hard work by all members, we now have 431 members. Our next step was to get larger quarters. The Boner building was purchased and all remodeling and rebuilding was supplied by members gratis.

We are having a dedication of our new home on November 2nd from 2:00 p.m. until closing. We will have a prominent speaker for the occasion from Mooseheart, Mr. Earl W. Horton. We invite you to come and hear this speaker, which will be followed by entertainment and dancing with a little something special by Ken Kirchmeyer.

A nice card party was held at the Moose Home Saturday. Prizes were given for each winning table. Our thanks to the ladies who gave the party. Bud Bushmole won the Pinchle high score and was presented a very nice manicure set.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stieber have returned from a nice vacation in the southland.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gorlitz and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Good are also enjoying a vacation in Florida.

We are glad to see George Borovicka around and hope you may visit with us soon George.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Petersen of Rochester, Minn. who are members of this lodge are visiting the Lester Nelsons in Antioch.

Chicago Retail Food Markets October 21-26

CHICAGO — Steaks and chops are continuing to even better bargains in red meats. Most fresh vegetables hold at higher prices due to weather-limited supplies. Higher storage stocks forecast low poultry prices coming into the holidays, and many harvest-time promotions of canned and frozen foods.

This is the tone of retail food markets in metropolitan Chicago, measured by the weekly survey by the University of Illinois consumer service. Suggested major-food bargain values for the week ending Oct. 26 include:

Meats — sirloin, porterhouse and round steaks, lamb and pork chops, turkey and veal roasts. Produce — tomatoes, potatoes, cabbage, squash, Florida oranges, grapefruit and mid-west apples.

In meats, although wholesale prices advanced slightly, retail beef and pork roasts remain generally unchanged. Steaks line up as good bargains. Other value considerations seasonally priced are pork chops, spare ribs, ham and sausage. Lamb quotes higher but chops are reduced in price in more stores. Veal, especially cuts from light weights, is cheaper.

The poultry picture shows egg production beginning to rise from the seasonal low point, but not sufficiently to influence retail prices. Smaller flocks dim prospects of significant price decline. Medium sizes are still the market buy. Poultry holdings are 40% greater than average, heaviest turkey holdings at record high.

Tomatoes and cabbage are the lower cost exceptions to the price rule this week as most fresh vegetables, suffering weather inflections, continue at higher prices. Sweet potatoes, shorter in total supply this season, are value priced in more stores. Better quality grapefruit, more Florida oranges and all kinds of apples — particularly midwesterns — are bargain buys.

Frozen foods offer a wide range of market buying opportunities. Orange concentrate is down to average supply levels. Vegetables are higher than a year ago. Fruit stocks are at new record supplies. Now is the time to shop for quantity deals to stock home freezers.

Groceries also reflect the high storage stock situation, the volume pressing lower living costs in this category. Best market buy opportunities will be found in fruit cocktail, applesauce, citrus products, peas, soups, tuna and salmon.

Significant prices for the week: Beef — Reflecting cold weather demand, sirloin steaks start at 79c, porterhouse 89c and round steaks are featured 59c or less. Comparatively, greater demand blade cut pot roasts, quote competitively 39-43c, round bone roasts typically 55-59c in volume stores. Rump and sirloin tip roasts are 85-89c, and if juicy rib roasts from better fed cattle are desired, expect to pay no less than 59-61c in most stores for standing rib.

Pork — Chops are featured in many stores, but more commonly are priced from 79c. Loin roasts tend to hold at last week's levels from 39c for rib end and about 55c for the loin half. Spare ribs and sausage meat are bargain priced at a wide range of prices.

Lamb — Expect few value opportunities for steaks with legs generally quoting 69c and shoulders typically 45c. Chops are a different story price-wise, with the possibility of tagging loin chops under a dollar. Rib and shoulder chops generally quote lower too, but as usual on a wide range.

Poultry — Fryers are higher but at retail still quote as values a consensus 39c. Stewing hens cost more in most stores, 35-39c. Turkey is the top value. Value-buy medium eggs price 47-49c, while the large grade A whites quote in the vicinity of 69c.

This WEEK'S U of I MARKET BUY

Continuing bargains in steaks and chops this week as wholesale meat prices advance slightly. Retail price tags on most roasts remain generally unchanged. Weather-limited supplies of fresh vegetables continue to hold up prices, with tomatoes a major exception. Egg production is increasing from the seasonal low point, but flocks are so much smaller this year little price decline can be expected. Storage stocks of major foods hold well above average. Poultry holdings are 40% greater than average, heaviest turkey holdings at record high, so expect further seasonal declines.

American Motors Announces '58 Line, All New Ambassador

American Motors today announced its new 1958 line of six and eight-cylinder Rambler cars, featuring more than a hundred major styling and engineering improvements designed to "take further advantage of the trend toward compact cars which gained such a strong foothold in 1957."

The new Ramblers will go on display in Rambler, Nash and Hudson dealerships across the nation on Friday, October 22, according to Roy Abernethy, American Motors vice-president in charge of automotive distribution and marketing.

"As record sales this year have demonstrated, the Rambler concept of compactness and economy has definitely taken hold with the American public," Abernethy said. "Signs everywhere point to a surging demand for cars that are more economical to operate and easier to park and handle — while still maintaining traditional American roominess and styling. We are confident that our 1958 Ramblers will further clinch American Motors' lead in this direction."

Abernethy also announced that American Motors' senior models are introduced, called the Ambassador, it is an entirely new line. Mounted on a 117-inch wheel base, it boasts a 270 H. P. V-8. The company will also bring out a new 100-inch wheel-base series later this year.

Eleven models — station wagons, sedans and hardtops — in the Six and V-8 series are offered in 1958. Both the V-8, known as the Rambler Rebel, and the Six are built on the compact 108-inch wheelbase. This provides the Rambler with a roomy six-passenger interior, and combined with its compact exterior, makes it the most maneuverable and economical full-size American car.

New major engineering improvements include a push-button control for the automatic transmission, new and larger brakes, all-welded single-unit construction made even stronger and safer by structural changes, a step-on parking brake and the optional Powr-Lok differential for V-8 models, which is designed to improve performance while driving through sand, mud, snow or ice. Powr-Lok permits the rear axle to send the greatest driving force to the wheel with the best traction.

Despite increased horsepower ratings in both the Six and the Rebel V-8, both will deliver even better economy, Abernethy said. The Six overhead valve engine is rated at 127, compared with 125 for the 1957 model. An optional twin-throat carburetor boosts the rating to 136 h.p. The V-8 develops 215 h.p., up from last year's 190. Greater fuel economy is possible because of increased compression ratios and, in the case of the V-8, a new four-barrel carburetor.

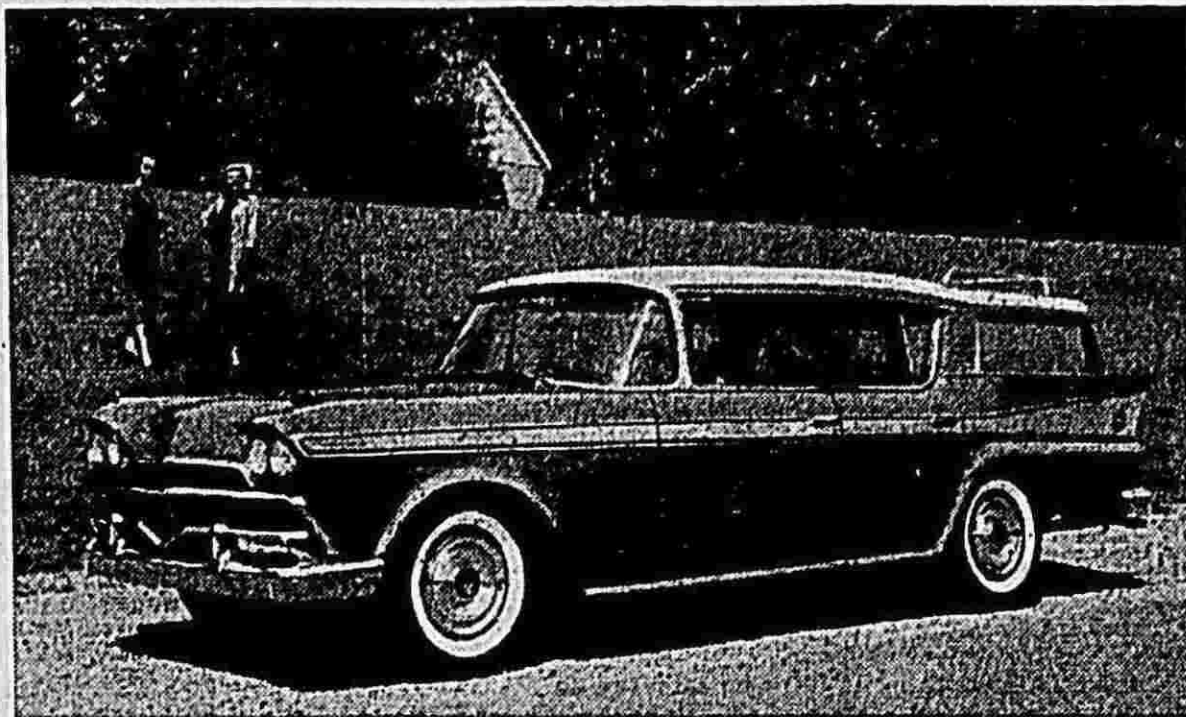

Both the Six and V-8 engines require only regular grade gasoline, which further lowers operating costs, Abernethy said.

Three transmissions are available in the Rambler: standard synchromesh, optional overdrive and Borg-Warner's smooth and efficient Flash-O-Matic, also optional.

As a new AM "first" for 1958, internal transmission shifting is automatically governed by an engine vacuum control system—rather than a mechanical linkage—which more accurately senses engine-load and car-speed requirements. Service problems are minimized since mechanical adjustments are not required.

New Line Unveiled by American Motors

American Motors Corporation offers station wagons in its 1958 senior line for the first time in its history. The Ambassador V-8, an entirely new line of cars in the Rambler series, also includes sedans, hardtop sedans and this hardtop station wagon. The new 117-inch wheelbase models will go on sale Oct. 22 at Rambler, Nash and Hudson dealerships across the nation. The Ambassador V-8 engine develops 270-horsepower.

out are immediately evident. "From the low and wide grille to the gracefully flared tail fins to the smartly-styled new interiors, the 1958 Rambler conveys a feeling of swiftness, luxury and comfort," Abernethy said.

Over-all dimensions of the 1958 Rambler are the same as last year's model. It is more than a foot and a half shorter than other low-priced cars, although its interior room is comparable or greater. The Rambler sedan is 191-1/8 inches long and 71-5/16 inches wide. The Six is 58 inches high; the Rebel V-8, 57-13/16 inches.

To prevent body rust, a revolutionary "body-dip" process which completely rust-proofs automobile bodies inside and out is being used on 1958 Ramblers. The dip method, under which the entire car body is submerged in a giant tank containing a rust-preventing primer, is the first used by a U.S. auto manufacturer. This process has been called "one of the most important advances in automobile finishing since the early varnish days of the industry."

Airliner reclining seats, which can be adjusted to five positions and quickly and easily made into twin travel beds, again are available.

An Improved All-Season air conditioning unit, which combines cooling and heating, is optional at low cost. Other major convenience accessories available are power window lifts, power steering and power brakes.

Sign on a winding highway: "These curves are different; they get more dangerous after you pass 65!"

Tax Facts

"Twelve state legislatures have recently given attention to the problems of urban transit companies," the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois said today.

At its recent session the Illinois Legislature gave limited financial relief to the Chicago Transit Authority. A new law, House Bill 1195, exempts the authority from paying the use and consumption tax from electricity.

Under the provisions of another statute, House Bill 1228, known as the State Mass Transportation Commission Act, the General Assembly created the commission to study and analyze all phases of mass transportation in congested areas of the State, particularly in densely populated counties. This 15 member commission is also empowered to make recommendations to the 71st General Assembly. Made up of 5 members of the Senate, 5 members of the House and 5 public members, it held its organization meeting this fall and elected Representative Elroy C. Sandquist, chairman, and Senator Merritt J. Little, first vice chairman. An appropriation of $75,000 was made by the legislature to the commission for operating expenses and the employment of qualified transportation and financial engineers.

In California, a 7 member Los Angeles Metropolitan Transit Authority has been created, and given power to issue revenue bonds for the purchase of existing transportation systems and the development of new facilities.

Legislatures in Iowa, Maine, Minnesota, North Carolina, Ohio, Oklahoma, Rhode Island, Vermont, Washington and West Virginia have enacted laws to provide varying forms of tax relief for urban transit companies. The Iowa law, passed over the veto of the Governor, eliminates state registration fees ranging from $25 to $265 for each bus, and compensation taxes varying from $75 to $250 for each bus. These are replaced by a flat $25 annual fee per bus.

The Federation commented, "The Illinois General Assembly followed an intelligent approach by creating a commission to study the problem in congested areas. Such a procedure can come up with means of operating mass transportation upon a financially sound basis."

Illinois industry loses more employees injured or killed in off-the-job traffic than it loses in work accidents, according to the Illinois Division of Traffic Safety. This indicates that more of industry's effort and financial assistance should be allocated to the support of organized traffic safety programs. We can have as much traffic safety as we are willing to work for and pay for.

Basic Causes For Speeding Cited

Why do five out of ten motorists insist on speeding beyond the point of safety? A Boston psychologist has some of the answers and says drivers themselves are not aware of the underlying reasons.

Speaking today at a symposium on speed control at the National Safety Congress, Dr. Alfred L. Moseley said: "The problem of controlling speeders must be approached from a psychological viewpoint before it can be effectively solved."

He bases his observations on nearly 400 personal "on-the-spot" interviews with drivers and analysis of records of drivers arrested for speeding. His survey was conducted in cooperation with the Massachusetts Registry of Motor Vehicles and the Massachusetts State Police.

Dr. Moseley cites 11 reasons, most of them subconscious, why drivers speed:

1. Temporary relief from mental and physical tensions.
2. A hidden impulse to violate the laws so as to be caught and punished.
3. Suicidal inclinations.
4. A compulsion to surpass other cars on the road.
5. Extreme anger.
6. Simple need to flee a bad situation — running away subconsciously.
7. Abounding joy.

8. Late model car design gives no feeling of speed.

9. Desire to repeat previous success in beating the law.

10. A growing belief that present cars are built for higher speeds than the law allows.

11. Speeding by deliberate choice.

Dr. Moseley pointed out that in the majority of cases, some aspect of a person's daily life other than actual driving provides the basic reason for speeding. He said that anyone may be guilty of driving too fast at times for one or more of the above reasons. Other offenses are of a chronic nature.

The psychologist recommended a program of psychiatric examinations at courtroom level for offenders guilty of driving at excessive speed, as well as for habitual speeders. "If for no other reason," he said, "those charged with enforcing the laws can no longer afford to risk their lives chasing culprits at 80 to 100 miles per hour."

Where Is Europe?

Answer Top Secret

One of the U. S. Air Force's most closely guarded secrets is the exact location of Europe!

For the last four years the United States Air Force has been busily re-charting the North Atlantic ocean with precise electronic navigational equipment. It was found that many commonly used maps were in error — not enough for general ocean-going shipping purposes but far too inaccurate for precise military air purposes.

JUST RIGHT FOR JUNIOR

For the young man of the house: furniture that can take it. Just the right size for his prized possessions, this junior chest from Kroehler's Custom Crafted division is as durable as it is handsome. It is of solid magnolia, and the tops have been specially treated to resist hard knocks and accidents involving spills or burns. Its streamlined surface makes dusting easy. From the Magnolia group, there are matching pieces available for every need, including bookcase headboards, chests, dressers, nightstands, desks, and bunk beds. All dresser and chest tops in this group are protected by many layers of plastic that perfectly match the wood tone and grain.

The new information gained is of inestimable value to USAF, and would be of equal value—if they could get it—to enemy nations. The reason: an infinitesimal error in calculations from mapping could throw the long-range missiles, built with watch-like precision by the U. S. aircraft industry, far off course.

In all of our calculations about sharing the road with other vehicles we are prone to forget that there are twice as many pedestrians as there are vehicles, says the Illinois Division of Traffic Safety. This poor pedestrian, who is each of us after parking our cars, has his rights too.

One way of sharing the road is to dim our lights so others may see, advises the Illinois Division of Traffic Safety. Many otherwise courteous drivers forget this.

Commercial motor fleets find it good business to be courteous. It pleases their customers and prevents restrictive and hampering legislation. Private motorists might find less restrictions imposed on them if they would voluntarily share the road and extend courtesy to others.

LITTLE BILL says:

6¢ a load
is all you pay—to dry the clean
electric way

An electric dryer will dry this normal 8-lb. load for only 6¢—2 sheets, 3 bath towels, 4 hand towels, 2 men's T-shirts, 3 pillowcases, 3 children's dresses, 2 luncheon cloths. Drying time only 25 to 30 minutes.

Nothing's faster, nothing's cleaner—and electric dryers are completely automatic

COST?

ELECTRIC DRYERS

cost
130 to 160 less to buy
than any other kind

A new electric dryer will wipe out your wife's weather worries on washday (and costs less to buy than any other kind).

And for just 6¢ a load, electric dryers give you the cleanest way to dry clothes. Clean, dry, radiant electric heat—like the sun—turns out clothes that are soft, sweet-smelling every time.

Fast, too. Today's electric dryers will dry a full load in 25 to 30 minutes. All electric dryers are fully automatic, nothing to light, no igniting devices to require service.

We think you'll be surprised when your appliance dealer tells you how little it costs to own a modern electric dryer.
